C is for Choices: According to Jim Fay, author of ‘Becoming a Love and Logic Parent’, giving children choices is more effective than making demands. He suggests “Never give choices if it might cause problems for you or anyone else”. Give only two options for each choice, both equally okay with you. For example, would you like peas or carrots? Or do you want to do your homework now or in 15 minutes? If the child doesn’t decide within 10 seconds, make the choice for him or her.
